Concerning Silk Qualities and Silk Prices.

It has been generally remarked that The Big Store is selling silks this spring at prices averaging 20 per cent less than similar goods are sold for elsewhere, and it is true, too. The reason is traceable to the fact that we placed extensive orders prior to the advance in raw silk. We saw the "handwriting on the wall" and protected ourselves accordingly. Our business policy demands that every advantage—that the combined buying power of the two Big Stores—New York and Chicago—can command—shall be given to the customer, and so if you buy your silks at The Big Store this season you will share in the benefits of our forethought and save on an average 20 per cent on every yard of silk you buy. The assortments of silks we show this spring are by far greater than we have ever shown before. If you are acquainted with our Silk Department you may know what to expect. If you are not, it will pay you to become acquainted with it as soon as possible.

For to-morrow we offer a series of unequalled price attractions in our silk store, every item a bargain gem of the first magnitude.
